JobJoy™ Report

Success Story

"Upon reviewing my stories, George's assessment was 100% accurate," says Kanwal. "Having him articulate my natural abilities and talents was a big eye opener for me. He identified me as an innovation evangelist, a person who is a great communicator, able to take complicated technologies, products and services and explain and present to people in a clear concise manner. I was a natural communicator who would do well in training, marketing or product management roles. This was big news to me."

- Kanwal Sarai, career changer from Software Tester to Product Marketing Manager
